

Captive (The Recruit)

The Big Five

Year 2003

Gifted role, held in prison to make the others fear, to show talent in the same special field, in this case, Colin James Farrell, who presumably was identified in psychology tests as a man "who will once make trouble". For example in this test the parameter "feels responsible to reveal the truth" was very pronounced. Psychological even more effective to see how mates are tortured than being self the tortured, the intended effect of such a scene and maybe also of this movie ...

WARNING: "possibly" dangerous JOB !!!!!

Judge Archetype

Role / Archetype

The role of the judge is one of the most powerful in the system, in many movies shown as a fat "cute" Santa Claus. The role would be perfect for a mastermind of a terror-network to hide in such a role that is hardly ever shown as the evil killer in TV. In computer science one would speak of a single point of failure, so it would also be perfect for a foreign aggressor, secret service to subdue the whole system. In "To protect and infect part 2" (12:17) @ioerror says "Is not clear to me, that a Judge would understand anything I just said" -- but an evil mastermind would maybe avoid to hold an office and influence the system in "secrecy"
